RE: Thank You for Sponsoring the 2023 Nova Scotia Library Association Conference

Dear Warden Roulston and Council,

This past weekend the Colchester-East Hants Public Library hosted the 2023 Nova Scotia Library Association conference. The theme for this year's conference was True Grit: Passion and Perseverance for Change. We welcomed over 130 delegates from across the province, and were honored to have two esteemed keynote speakers: Truro's own Dr. Lynn Jones, and Jim L. Turk, Director of the Centre for Free Expression at Toronto Metropolitan University. By all accounts our attendees enjoyed the informative sessions and networking opportunities, as well as the many amenities in Truro and surrounding areas!

On behalf of the NSLA conference planning committee, I would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to the Municipality of East Hants for sponsoring the Friday Opening Night Reception held at the Truro Library. This was our first opportunity to showcase the recently renovated Truro Library to our provincial colleagues, and we received many compliments on the beautiful, historical architecture blended with modern library design.

Thank you for taking part in our conference and for all that you did to make it a success.

All the best,
