Subject: Cenotaph

I'm not a person that writes letters. I'd rather look you in the face to see your reaction to what I'm saying..What I saw at the council meeting doesn't give me much hope for having the war memorial put back where it belongs.

Carl MacPhee saying the dog is yawning in correspondance, he's supposed to be our councillor and look out for our interests. That's a joke. After Eldon Hebb spoke backing him up, he reached over and patted him on the leg. What kind of system is going on here? Then we had to listen to another councillor rant. It's quite obvious They're working together. They should be ashamed of their behavior. They then brought up the natives. They should know they are making their own monument down at exit 10. One has nothing to do with the other.

The price to return?That's not on us, it's on you. Another comment. Soldier hidden behind the trees? What is wrong with you? Any excuse will do.Underhanded in moving the monument with out going through proper channels. The war memorial is not a statue. The men noted on this monument went to war for us, for our freedom, and never came home. It's not just a piece of metal and cement. The return of the soldier should have nothing to do with money. It's about doing what's right.

I'm not sure the councillors know how disrespectful they are for what they did? And all for a parking lot?You don't have a clue what those men went through, you sit up there and make your decision without a second thought for those young men. So maybe look back at your family history and see if any ancestors went to war? What would they think of you and what you've done ? The parking lot original plan is already drawn up with the cenotaph in the original place so there is no reason it can't be back in place by November 11.
